In The Beginning...

In 1958, Flora Macdonald College (a women's college founded in 1896) merged with Presbyterian Junior College (an all male college founded in 1928) to form the all new St. Andrews Presbyterian College. On September 22, 1961 the new school opened with 750 students. The majority of students and faculty came from the original schools, but the school grew quickly in its first decade. The first classes met bright and early at 8 o'clock in the morning, followed by an opening convocation.

The campus was initially designed to be "barrier-free" allowing the College to move quickly to the forefront of service and research in the education of physically disabled students.

Beginnings and Endings

The history of St. Andrews offers a consistent record of academic innovation, recognition and accomplishment despite our small size. To continue this impressive trend, we had to make a few changes to better meet the needs of the students, many of which became an integrative part of campus life in the 2011-2012 school year.

In 2011 Webber International University and St. Andrews Presbyterian College received approval to merge the two institutions and St. Andrews became a branch of Webber International. Webber, a university that focuses on business education, and St. Andrews, a liberal arts institution, forged a relationship to make sure the best features of St. Andrews are maintained and supported for future generations of students.

With these exciting academic changes came a few other changes: We joined Webber as an NAIA school where before we were a Division II NCAA program, new courses are offered with a promise of some Graduate level courses to be offered in the future! So, though the end of SAPC may be a bit sad, we have plenty to look forward to with the beginning of St. Andrew's University!

The St. Android Way...

We have come a long way since first opening our doors to the new St. Androids. With an emphasis on interdisciplinary studies and challenging classroom experiences, students spend four years in a unique learning environment that celebrates personal growth and achievement. With dozens of possible degrees to work toward, and the high involvement of our students in clubs and various other activities on campus and in the community, our campus is a busy and exciting one. But, ultimately we are here to hone our skills and move on to bigger and better things, better things that are possible thanks to what we gained from our St. Androids.

Victoria Bickett and Park Hoey enjoy performing their favorite verse duet of "True Light."

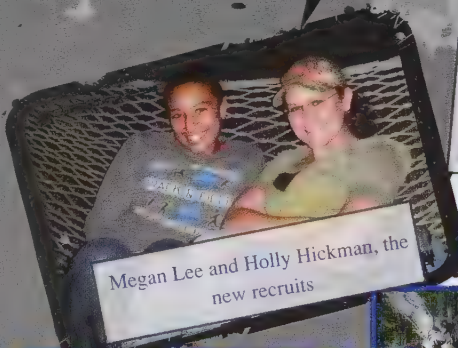

Every year "Doc" tells the choir that if they can make him cry, he'll give them each a quarter. This year they made sure they deserved it. Dr. McConnell was honored with a special gift, a final rendition of his favorite song, and plenty of spare change.

Dr. McConnell leads the choir in warm-ups before taking part in the St. Andrews Sunday service at Laurinburg Presbyterian Church. Every year the choir and pipe band, along with a few other student leaders, direct the services for the day.

Jesse James Gordon accompanies the choir with his violin in "See Amid the Winter's Snow."

The Music of our Heritage...

Matthew Poletti performs in a solo competition at the 3rd Annual Scotland County Highland Games, placing first in his division.

What better way is there to represent such a cultural school than with the music of our heritage? The St. Andrews Pipe Band performs authentic Scottish music as well as Irish and other Celtic pieces. The band was formed in 1991 and now competes at a grade three level. Within the band are many strong solo members that compete throughout the summer as well. The Pipe Band and Choir join forces once a year to perform at Laurinburg Presbyterian Church in honor of their support. Where our musicians go there is always a thrilling performance to follow.

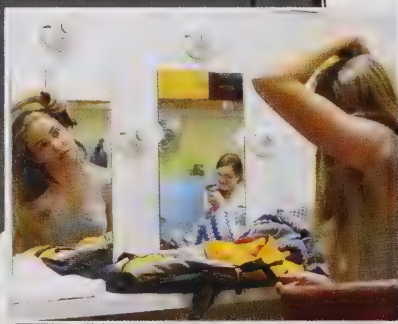

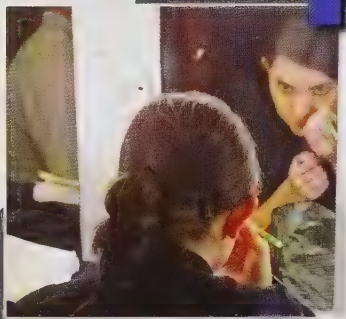

Michael Iannuzzi, Garret Prenda, and Billy Gehringer practice drum parts before the band competition at the Scotland County Highland Games.

Billy Gehringer, accompanied by Director Bill Caudill, performs in the snare drum solo competitions at the Scotland County Highland Games, earning first place.

A Christmas Carol

Behind the scenes is always an interesting habitat. Time is spent doing hair and make-up,
character changes,
finishing homework, and ALWAYS waiting for the next cue.

Just Being Dramatic

Through remodeling the stage, the set collapsing, learning voice projection and stage combat, wardrobe malfunctions, lots of laughs, a couple tears, and working like mad, the cast and crew put on an exceptional performance of The Crucible by Arthur Miller.

St. Andrews offers many unique studying opportunities, including trips abroad. In the summer of 2011, a group of students, led by Professor Howard Reichner got the chance to travel to Vietnam. Similarly during the fall semester, another group of students, with their fearless leader Betsy Dendy, chose to study in Brunnenburg, Italy.

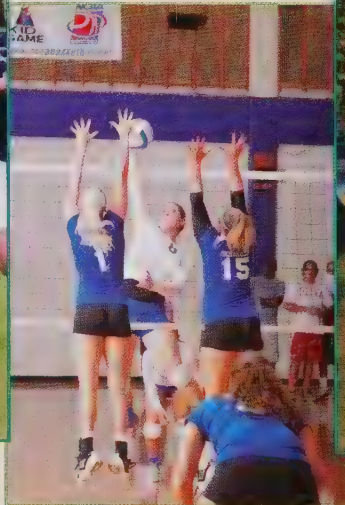

Who wouldn't want to stay in a castle, make some wine at a vineyard, and travel through Europe? Seems like an awesome way to spend a semester. And even though we missed having our friends with us for a whole semester, its hard to feel too bad for them! You can bet they will never forget the semester they spent abroad!

Knights ATHLETICS

Love the game. Love the game for the pure joy of accomplishment. Love the game for everything it can teach you about yourself. Love the game for the feeling of belonging to a group endeavoring to do its best. Love the game for being involved in a team whose members can't wait to see you do your best. Love the game for the challenge of working harder than you ever have at something and then harder than that. Love the game because it takes all team members to give it life.

Love the game because at its best, the game tradition will include your contributions. Love the game because you belong to a long line of fine athletes who loved it. It is now your legacy. Love the game so much that you will pass your love of the game to another athlete who has seen your dedication, your work, your challenges, your triumphs. . . and then that athlete will, because of you, love the game.

In Memory...

of Those Loved, and Those Lost

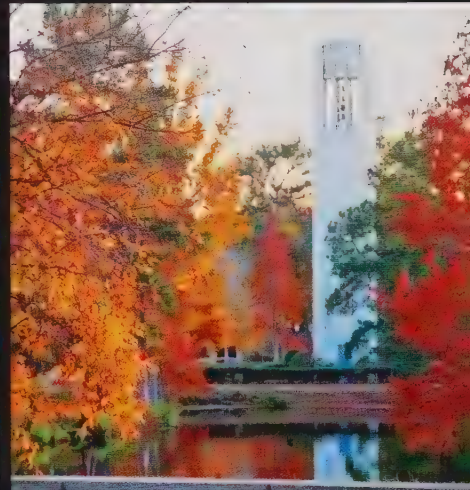

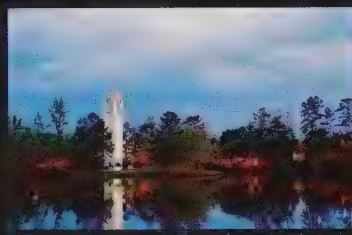

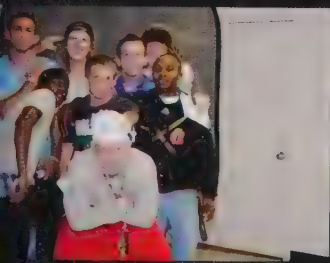

St. Andrews mourned the loss of 1st Lt. Ashley White Stumpf, who was killed in October 2011. The 24-year-old Alliance, Ohio native was killed by an improvised explosive device in Afghanistan where she was serving as a member of a cultural support team working with a Joint Special Operations Task Force. She was on leave from St. Andrews where she worked as an athletic trainer, and her team player attitude will be missed deeply among athletes and staff. Stumpf will be posthumously awarded the Bronze Star Medal, the Purple Heart, the Meritorious Service Medal, the Afghanistan Campaign Medal and the Combat Action Badge.

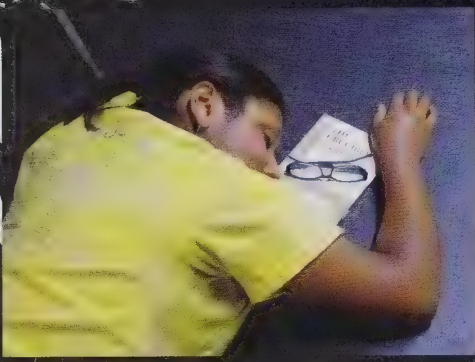

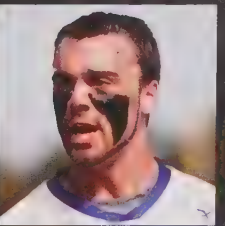

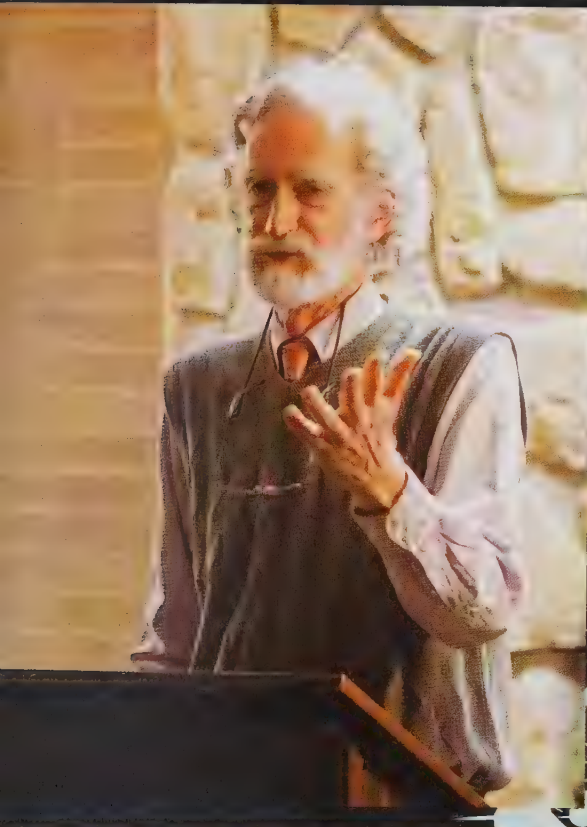

Another member of the St. Andrews community was lost this year. Deborah Anne Lucia DePiero, died peacefully at home surrounded by members of her family after a long illness on December 27, 2011. She was 60 years old. She had a passion for teaching and was instrumental in starting a Writing Center at St. Andrew's for student looking for assistance in improving their work. Debbie was a loving and devoted mother to her seven children and (at last count twelve) granddaughters. She is fondly remembered and sorely missed.

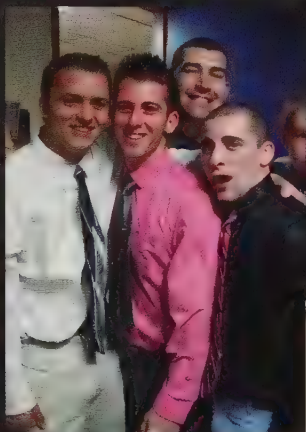

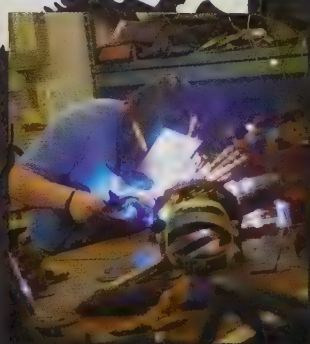

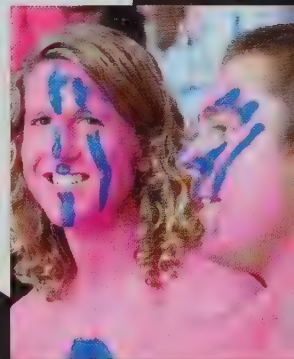

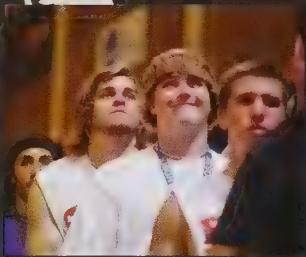

STEPS TO NOWHERE

AN EXPLANATION AT LAST!

At some point in each St. Android's time of study on campus, this most fundamental question pops up: Why are there a set of stairs that lead to nowhere?!

Well, your answer is finally here!

The original blueprints for the new St. Andrews Presbyterian College, drafted in roughly 1958, had included an Administration building to be constructed atop these conspicuous little steps.

So, they most certainly were supposed to lead somewhere at some time, but now they just lead students and visitors alike to wonder...where are these steps supposed to take me?

Lamp & Shield

Lamp & Shield, volume fifty, was produced by the yearbook staff of St. Andrews University located in Laurinburg, North Carolina. This volume was printed by Herff Jones, Inc. in Charlotte, North Carolina. The account was serviced by representative Shannon Spaulding. The cover was designed using the Herff Jones Go! Design program. The one hundred page yearbook was done in an all-color concept. The Lamp & Shield was created on the Herff Jones eDesign software with the layouts being submitted to the plant electronically. Samantha Starr served as editor and Rooney Coffman served as advisor. Photos not credited are the work of Rooney Coffman and the St. Andrews photography staff, the Lamp & Shield staff, Jennifer Roberts, Ellen Tobin, Megan Nelson, Dr. Larry Schulz, Donna Levesque, Sara Hackney, Betsy Dendy, Dagmawi Abebe, and more. Two hundred fifty copies were produced.
